Kiss Causes Crackup; 11 Hurt in Accidents

A kiss early Sunday morning resulted in an automobile accident in which a newlywed couple was injured.

Mrs. Winifred Vetter, 33, of 376 McKendry Ave., North Palo Alto, is in Palo Alto Hospital Monday with several fractured ribs and a scalp injury. Her husband, Roger L. Vetter, 33, an accountant, suffered a cut on his forehead.

Mrs. Vetter's mother said that her daughter and son-in-law were returning after the Big Game about 1:30 a.m. Sunday and were driving south on Canada Rd. near Woodside. Vetter leaned over to kiss his wife, to whom he had been married for six months, she said, and the car ran onto a soft shoulder.

Mrs. Vetter was thrown from the car, which rolled over in the road and landed back on its wheels. A passenger in the rear seat of the car, George Burgess, 36, of 2330 Cowper St., Palo Alto, suffered minor injuries.

Eight other persons were injured in the county's unincorporated area, two of them also while returning from the Big Game.

James H. Crowell, 19, Stanford student, and Linnea Alexander, 17, a San Mateo Junior College student, were treated at South San Francisco Hospital for cuts about their faces and heads.

The California Highway Patrol reported that the car, driven by Crowell, drove across the wrong side of Bayshore Hwy., struck the light post which snapped off at the base and fell against the side of the car. The accident occurred at 3:30 a.m. Sunday near Brisbane.

Three members of one family were injured in a three-car collision Sunday afternoon on Bayshore Hwy. at Ralston Ave., Belmont. The injured, Mrs. O. M. Biggs, 39, Linda Biggs, 7, and Tawana Ann Biggs, 14, all of 2705 Bryant St., Palo Alto, were treated at Community Hospital.

The accident involved cars driven by Robert A. Jones, 27, San Francisco, O. M. Biggs, 40, and Hubert M. Borges, 23, San Francisco.

Mrs. Elizabeth Doman, 46, of 416 Douglas St., suffered a neck injury when the car driven by her husband, James M. Doman, 54, was involved in a rear-end collision with an automobile driven by Ralph C. Hoover, 56, of Burlingame. Mrs. Doman was released from Community Hospital after treatment of her injury.

The accident occurred at 3:20 p.m. Sunday on Half Moon Bay Rd. at the Skyline Blvd. intersection.

Mrs. Opal Bell, 33, of 2037 Bayshore Hwy., East Palo Alto, and Johnnie Bell, 2, suffered minor injuries in an accident Sunday afternoon on Bayshore Hwy. at Holly Rd., San Carlos. Neither required hospital treatment.

The accident involved cars driven by John W. Bell, 40, and Helen M. Gibbs, 42, of San Francisco, a research associate at Stanford.

John J. Bean Arrested On Driving Charge

A 38-year-old Redwood City engineer was arrested by San Mateo police Sunday night, charged with drunk driving, reckless driving and driving without headlights.

Still in jail this morning, in lieu of $250 bail on the three charges was John Jules Bean of 1728 Redwood Ave.

Police said he was arrested following failure to pass a sobriety test at Mills Memorial Hospital. He was stopped by police at Ninth Ave. and El Camino Real, San Mateo, after they had followed his car from 13th Ave.

Menlo Park School Board Votes Election Dec. 15 on $100,000 20-Unit Bond Issue

Menlo Park Elementary School District trustees will ask votes to approve a $100,000 bond issue for a 20-room Western District school at an election Dec. 15, Supt. Melville J. Homfeld announced today.

Homfeld said the school board was granted immediate possession of the 10-acre site on Santa Cruz Ave. between Elder St. and Olive St. on Monday in San Mateo County Superior Court, where a condemnation suit for the land is in progress.

At a special meeting Monday night the district trustees commissioned Arthur Janssen and William Daseking, architects, to prepare a master plan for the 20-room elementary school plant, Homfeld said.

The architects were also instructed to prepare preliminary drawings of one wing, including six classrooms and a kindergarten, and to make working drawings of three or more of the rooms, Homfeld said.

Final possession of the school site by the trustees marked the climax of a fight which proceeded through the Menlo Park Planning Commission, a period of negotation, and finally the court action under the right of eminent domain. The property was owned by the Menlo Investment Co., whose representatives contended that sale of the land for school use would deprive the company of valuable sources and that other land was available at lower cost.

The lot runs 500 feet north of Santa Cruz Ave. and has an 815-foot frontage on Santa Cruz. Present plans call for the facing of the school on Elder St.

A. Carlisle Co. Opens $2,000,000 Building

Approximately three thousand visitors attended the formal opening of A. Carlisle & Company's new $2,000,000 building on Harrison St., San Francisco, last Friday. The fact that a large proportion of the visitors were from the Peninsula is attributed to the personal popularity of William B. Curran of Redwood City, a veteran Carlisle official who was in the receiving line from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Among the visitors from Redwood City were many of the city and county officials, and many private citizens connected with the larger corporations, including Assessor John Brophy and wife, Don Hughes of Pacific Intermountain Express, Al Armitage of West Vaco, Gene Hoffman of American President Lines, and many others.

Johnson St. Work Start Ordered

Improvements to Johnson St., which will be paid through assessments, were ordered to be started immediately this week by Redwood City councilmen.

City Engineer Glenn M. Jain had recommended delay, fearing the project might be slowed by winter rains if started now.

News of Commuters

A tip to the officers and board members of the Redwood City Commuters Club: Let's have a closed business meeting real soon to take our club apart and see what isn't making it tick. Something is wrong. That was evident last Thursday night when fewer than 30 members showed up for dinner.

★ ★ ★

We've seen more than that at a house committee or board meeting. And it was too bad, because we had a good program and an unusually fine dinner. Frank Griffin, Sequoia's perennial athletic director, was in rare form and put on a great show. Too bad more of the taxpayers couldn't have been there.

★ ★ ★

Why the small attendance? Several members had ideas, mostly to effect that change of meeting night from Tuesday to Thursday cut down attendance. Argued that every group in town, from bird lovers to Elks, meet on Thursday night. We have different idea. We think club is dying on the vine because presently it lacks purpose. There is no project around which the membership can rally with burning zeal.

★ ★ ★

Remember the old days? Our club was sired by conflict and oppression. It was born in the heat of battle—the commuters' campaign for better facilities at Third and Townsend, and better transportation to and from the depot. The infant club nursed on cyanide, and teethed on fire and brimstone. In the past ten years the Commuters Club has had many causes and fought many battles—from the Farlow Plan to Butchers' Field and the county charter studies.

★ ★ ★

We took on all comers, and we were as often wrong as right. But the point is, we were a live, active group of citizens, whose only interests were community betterment and improved transportation. We were a vital, dynamic force in the community. And we were respected, if not always admired. We had a purpose, a mission to perform. We did a lot of constructive work and we had fun doing it.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps now that we have made a first class railroad out of the Southern Pacific, got a decent transportation system in San Francisco, and succeeded in making Redwood City the ideal residential city in America, we should drop all pretense of "purpose" for our Commuters organization, and quietly disband. (A few more meetings like last Thursday and we won't even need that formality.)

★ ★ ★

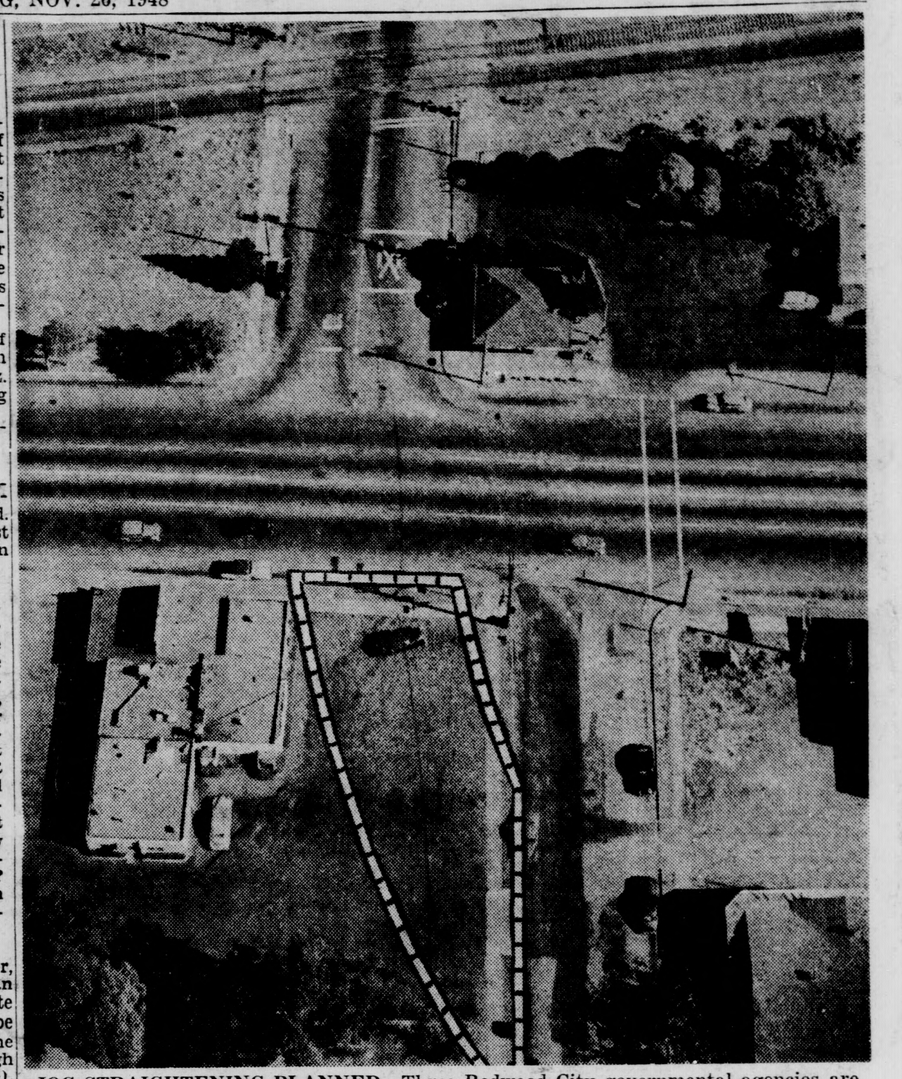

As one of the original, battle-scarred veterans, we oppose any such surrender. We think there is plenty yet to be done . . . before this area becomes Utopia. For instance, what has become of Elmer Ross' "grade separation committee?" Are we going to wait until both sides of the RR right-of-way are built up solid before we undertake this life-saving project? If we haven't anything better to do, why don't we jump into the Sequoia High School debate? Everybody else wants to run the school, why not the commuters?

★ ★ ★

Incidentally, as a taxpayer, we would like to express an opinion about that. We note that a citizen who seems to be leading the opposition to the new Sequoia regime (through Forum letters in the Tribune), bases most of his arguments on what his student offspring tells him. How foolish! We have children in four different schools on the Peninsula. If we believed everything some of them tell us we would have long since burned down at least three school houses.

Krogh and Ogden, as we get it, were hired to fill administrative vacancies caused by resignation. Why pick on them, until they have had a chance to prove or disprove themselves? It's their job and their responsibility, and we want them to have a chance to run it their way, without interference. If they flunk it, then we hope the trustees will throw them out. In the meantime, we don't want students, teachers, or least of all, side-line quarterbacks, telling them how to run their jobs. Do we make ourselves clear?

JOG STRAIGHTENING PLANNED—Three Redwood City governmental agencies are studying a proposal to straighten the intersection at El Camino Real and Whipple, Ave. which has been the scene of dozens of accidents and numerous injuries to motorists and pedestrians. The line shows how the curved line would be extended westward across a parking lot now used by the Fox Shoppe. Along the southern line a portion of an outdoor hamburger stand might be lopped off, although safety and planning commissioners have not completed their survey.

Gee Yuen "feeds good" at Caribou

...where P. G. and E. mountain crews work hard and eat heartily

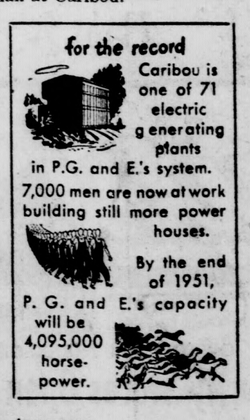

Appetites grow big at Caribou hydroelectric power plant up Feather River, and Chief Cook Gee Yuen keeps them satisfied. "I just feed good," he explains. That means laying out three tremendous "squares" every day to some of the hungriest men in the country—P. G. and E. crews—maintenance, line, engineering. For Gee knows that operating power plants and keeping transmission lines open in all sorts of weather is hard, healthy work...and must be rewarded with good foods. And he knows how to prepare real man-sized meals and special, tasty treats . . . making him the most popular man at Caribou.

Caribou's cook for 29 years, Gee soon will be ready to retire on a monthly pension, joining over 1200 other P. G. and E. pensioners who now receive regular retirement incomes.

On the job today are 17,500 P. G. and E. employees working in more than 100 specialized fields necessary to produce and distribute power and fuel for Northern and Central California.

$1000 Burglary At Sky-L'onda

Household equipment valued at nearly $1000 was stolen early Monday morning in a burglary of a newly opened store at Sky-L'onda.

Dep. Sheriff Paul Jensen said that the burglars, unable to open the locked cash register which contained $25, even carted that off.

The burglary was at the Skyline Village Market, Skyline Blvd. and La Honda Rd., which last Friday had its grand opening. The value of the stolen articles totaled $980.04, according to the store manager, S. A. McLaughlin.

Jensen said that the burglars pried loose the bolt of a rear door of the store, one side of which has foodstuffs and the other home appliances. The burglary occurred between midnight and 7 a.m. and was noticed when McLaughlin went to work Monday morning.

The burglars apparently used a truck onto which they loaded the following articles:

Two gas ranges, an electric mangle, waffle iron, 10 electric mixers, 5 mechanical alarm clocks, 4 electric alarm clocks, 10 electric irons, a steam iron, 6 electric toasters and 4 wool blankets.

Jensen said that the burglars did a "neat job," without disturbing other items. None of the foodstuffs on the grocery side of the store was touched.

The burglary was similar to one committed on Aug. 16 in Lomita Park when thieves broke into the Hickey & Sons plumbing firm store and removed stoves valued at $1100.

Short Circuit Causes $350 Fire in SC Home

A short circuit in a radio was blamed by San Carlos firemen as the cause of a fire resulting in $350 damages at the home of Emmett O'Neill, 2066 St. Francis Way, San Carlos. The fire was reported at 8:52 p.m. Sunday.

Firemen said that the blaze and damage was confined to the radio and a small portion of wall near the radio.

Student Representatives To Attend Conclave Dec. 3-5

Student representatives of the more than 300 Northern California junior and senior high schools are being invited this week to attend a regional High School Conference on UNESCO to be held at Asilomar Dec. 3-5.

The weekend conference is sponsored by the Institute of International Relations of the Associated Students of Stanford University.

Objectives of the conference are to encourage student leaders in the promition of international relations activities in high schools, and to discuss duties and functions of the students in promoting peace and security.

Accomplishment of these aims will be sought through panel, group, and round-table discussions, supplemented by lectures and moving pictures.

Meeting simultaneously at Asilomar with the student conference will be the World Affairs Council of Northern California. The council, convening for its second annual conference to consider positive alternatives to Communism, will hold joint meetings with the student group.

Among subjects to be discussed by the student delegates will be the atomic bomb, the proposed Western European Union, the United States and the Soviet Union, and the role of the individual toward UNESCO.

Movies of United Nations conferences and a speech by Radio Commentator Raymond Swing on "A Positive Role for the United States in World Affairs" will highlight the Asilomar meeting.

The Stanford Institute of International Relations, a student organization, has been designated by the United Nations department of public information as an official, voluntary United Nations educational center to serve Northern California senior and junior high schools.

Subdivisions Gain Approval

Four planning commission recommendations were approved this week by Redwood City councilmen.

The recommendations:

Permit John Yakovenko to subdivide lots at Redwood Ave. and Juniper St.

Gave Don Hirsch permission to resubdivide one lot into two lots at Hillview Ave. and Hopkins Ave.

Approved, subject to conditions, a tentative subdivision map for the Layng and Blomquist industrial tract along Bayshore Hwy.

Granted Mary McAdam permission to subdivide land on Nevada St. near Katherine Ave.

City Checks Plan To Purchase Land

Frank Skillman, San Mateo County planning consultant, wrote Redwood City councilmen this week that trailers parked by the Ideal Auto Court along Charter St. were on private property.

He stated that the court has agreed, however, to move the trailers back and has offered the 566 foot by 14 foot strip for sale for $3000.

Burglars Take $2500 in Millbrae

Safecrackers, working in predawn hours at Millbrae Monday, drilled through the strong box of the Coral Reef Cafe and escaped with approximately $2500.

They likewise presented Millbrae police with a bit of a mystery concerning their reason for handling rolls of nickels, dimes, quarters and half dollars totalling $350 and then leaving this money where they discovered it.

Walter Swope, Millbrae police chief, reported the job as "carefully planned." The Coral Reef was closed at 2 a.m. It is believed the cracksmen entered shortly thereafter. Discovery of their visit was made at 9 a.m. by W. M. Ostrom of Millbrae. He is the father of E. R. Melville, proprietor of the Coral Reef.

Careful preparation to guard against discovery was made by the gang, according to Swope. Entrance was first attempted by forcing a grilled sliding door. But this attempt was abandoned for the simpler method of inserting a knife blade in a spring lock and slipping back the bolt. Once inside, the burglars relocked the door.

Next they ripped a quantity of tapa cloth from the dining room wall and draped it across the window of the front office to screen their activities. A 35-foot length of electric cord was removed from a rear room and connected with a socket in the bar to provide current for an electric drill.

County Polio Epidemic Nearing 100

San Mateo County's polio epidemic neared the 100 mark Monday with the report of three new cases during the weekend.

The County Health and Welfare Dept. reported that the total for the year now stands at 96, with six of the victims contracting the disease during the latter part of last week.

Previous alltime high was 51 cases, in 1943.

With more than a week of November left, this month already recorded the second highest number of cases this year. The peak month, an alltime record, was October, when 27 cases occurred. The November total is 22.

One of the persons stricken is Norma Marcelli, 17, of South San Francisco, sister of Mrs. Elida Nanni, who died of infantile paralysis.

The other two most recent cases are those of a 15-year-old San Mateo girl who became ill on Saturday and a 35-year-old San Mateo man who was stricken yesterday. The other three cases, all occurring late last week, were those of an 8-year-old boy, a 5-year-old San Mateo girl and a 2-year-old San Bruno girl. All of them are in Community Hospital, but their conditions are reported to be not serious.

Five San Mateo County residents have died of polio this year.

High School Trustees Approve 10 Acres For South County Site

The Sequoia High School Board of Trustees last night approved the signing of quick-claim deeds on 10 acres of former Dibble Hospital property in Menlo Park, thus acquiring the first part of a site for a high school in the southern part of the school district.

The 10 acres, located on Middlefield Rd. at Ravenswood Ave., was offered to the school district by the War Assets Administration in September after nearly two years of negotiation by the district for surplus property.

The property, which runs to a depth of about 300 feet, is directly across the street from the Donohoe property, against which the district has filed a condemnation suit in order to acquire a school site in Menlo Park.

Trustee Charles Burgess last night reported that Architect Arthur Janssen had plotted out about 35 acres of the Donohoe property and is working out tentative locations for buildings at the proposed 600-student branch high school. Burgess said that the district will probably be able to go ahead with the project in the near future.

Supt. Clyde Ogden reported that plans for a new gymnasium and a 10-classroom addition at Sequoia are now being worked over by architects.

The board last night granted bids on the laying of a concrete slab and the pacing of surrounding area for a student recreation center to be located at the outdoor theater where graduation ceremonies are held each year.

Ogden said that 40 by 60 foot slab will be used as an outdoor dance floor for student noon dances and that the paved area can be used for volleyball, badminton and other activities. During rainy weather the dance floor will be covered with canvas awning.

The bid on the concrete slab was granted to the Brigato Paving Co. of San Mateo for $720 and that on the paving to Douglas Woodhouse for $1810.

Last night the board also:

Took under advisement a letter from the Sequoia clerks and secretaries asking that the working week be reduced from 43 to 40 hours and that only a skeleton crew be kept at the school on Saturday mornings.

Granted the bid on the sale of 28 second-hand typewriters to the Smock Typewriter Co. for $879.

Granted the bid on school magazine subscriptions to the Mayfair Agency of New Jersey for $419.35.

Heard Business Mgr. Humphrey Lynch report that the district would have to pay $216 this year on the new city sewer tax.

Granted permission to the chamber of commerce to use the baseball field for a helicopter landing and to the Kiwanis Club to use the school cafeteria for a children's Christmas party.

Granted permission to a senior Boy Scout troop sponsored by the Redwood City Rotary Club to use a high school classroom as a meeting place.

Heard Supt. Ogden report that intelligence tests have been given to 975 students thus far this year with the resulting scores ranging from 67-144.

Leon Sloss Jr. Leaves Estate of $423,720

Leon Sloss Jr. of Woodside, late president of the Stanford Alumni Assn., who died Dec. 17, 1947, left an estate worth $423,720, according to an appraisal filed today in superior court.

Of that total, $188,221 was in his automobile distributorship business in San Francisco.

Most of the rest of his assets was in stocks and bonds.

In a will made out not long before his death by heart attack, Mr. Sloss left his estate in trust for his widow, Mrs. Eleanor F. Sloss.

Convector Radiators Cut Drafts in Heating Homes

Steam and hot water heating systems, using new convector radiators as the heating outlets in individual rooms, have helped solve the problem of drafts which cause colds. Instead of sending heated air into rooms through ducts directly from the basement furnace, steam or hot water is distributed through tightly enclosed pipes to individual convector units.

The convector heating unit is enclosed within a streamlined cabinet in each room, and the room air is heated as it flows by natural convection through the copper or aluminum heating element.

Heated air flows out into the room in a huge arc, forcing cool air down and through the unit in a continuous, scarcely perceptible cycle. By warming large areas of air gradually, with no "scorching" of small quantities, drafts are eliminated and temperatures at the floor-line and ceilings are kept virtually the same.

Heating engineers say that the gentler warmth of modern heating systems protects the mucous membranes of the nose and throat, eliminating cracking, and lessens the danger of contracting the common cold.

Board Overrules Vallemar Protests

Protests by a group of Vallemar residents to plans for construction of a sewer in the Ocean Shore Sanitary Dist. were overruled recently by the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors.

The supervisors gave their consent to the construction after County Engineer M. A. Grant had recommended it.

Forty-three residents of Vallemar had protested the project which they claimed would impose a needless financial burden upon them. The sewer is to service both Vallemar and Rockaway Beach.

Before the project is started a hearing will be held by the district's trustees on Dec. 22.

Grant stated that the assessment for the Vallemar area would be about $70 for owners of 25-foot lots. Nearly 100 homes in the area need sewers, he stated.

South County Hits 85% in Chest Drive

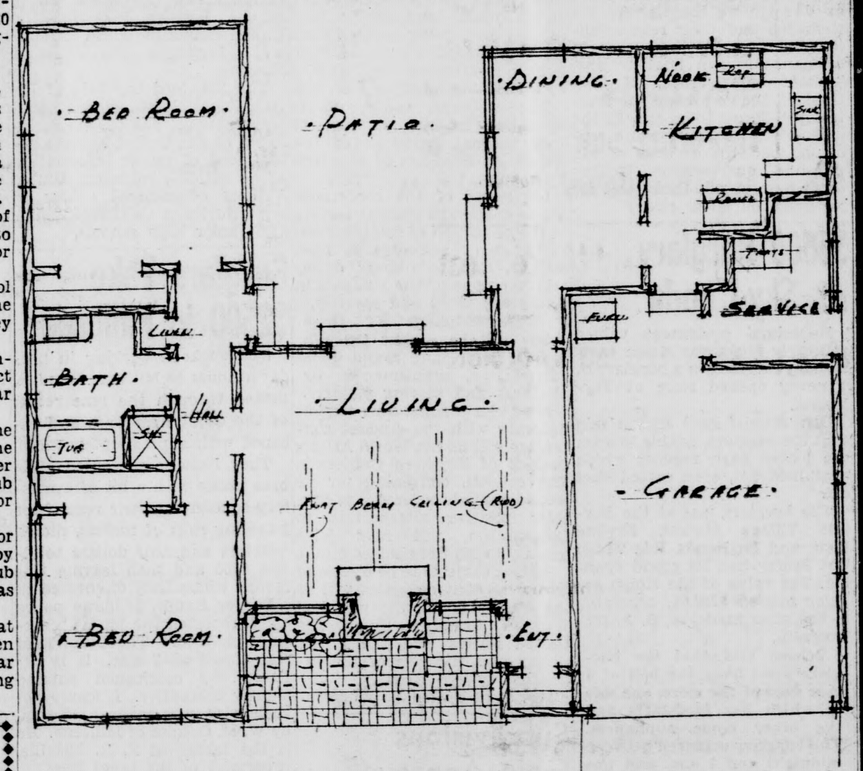

Three thousand one hundred and ninety dollars, or more than 85 per cent of the quota set for South San Mateo County Community Chest drive, was reached this week, according to Lt. Col. Joseph L. Connolly, chairman of the district.

Aiding Connolly, who covered the Menalto Oaks district and the Veterans Administration Hospital, were the following men: Arthur Cobbledick and Lt. Col. Merrill G. Hatch, Bell Haven; Arthur Nobbs, North Palo Alto, and Donald Walker, the rest of the Ravenswood School Dist.

Walker was assisted by W. A. Vagedes, Newbridge district; Hy Zimmer, Palo Alto Manor; Deveral Andrus, Palo Alto Park; Jack Clark and Jack Denton, East Palo Alto; Albert S. Hansen, Menalto 8, and Lloyd G. Sloan, business district.

-:- Peninsula Homes for Americans -:-

BY BUD SPRUNGER

Today's Peninsula home was constructed by Leslie K. Lewis for D. W. Tyler on a 60 foot by 150 foot lot at 316 Bay Rd. in Belle Haven.

The house contains a living room, two bedrooms, a bath, a dining room, a kitchen, a service room and a large garage complete with extra storage space. In all, the livable floor area is approximately 1200 square feet.

The living room, dining room and one bedroom form a "U" around a rear patio, providing shelter and privacy.

The house has brick across the front, a brick porch and a flagstone sidewalk.

The fireplace is of Arizona flagstone and the entry of red quarry tile.

In the living room, the ceiling is beamed with redwood and the bath contains a built-in vanity.

Besides the full sized dining room, the structure has a breakfast nook attached to the kitchen. On the other side of the kitchen is a door leading to the garage and to a service porch which contains laundry equipment.

State Governments Double Expenditures in Four Years

California's state and local governments spent $1,291,515,570 during fiscal 1947—almost twice as much as the $690,677,792 wartime low spending for these governments during fiscal 1943, California Taxpayers' Assn. reported today, making public the second of its study "Income and Expenditures of Government in California, 1910 to 1948."

State government expenditures amounted to $419,217,225 for fiscal 1947, well over two and a half times the $160,372,043 for 1943, the association found.

The state's 58 counties spent $321,086,110 for 1947, compared with $191,734,460 for 1943.

The more than 300 cities in the state spent $221,817,433 during fiscal 1947, compared with $129,501,071 for 1943.

The more than 2800 school districts in California spent $301,555,140 for 1947, compared with $190,079,620 for 1943.

Special district expenditures reached $27,839,662 for 1947, from $18,990,598 for 1943.

During the war years, the school districts and the counties spent the biggest share of the taxpayers' dollar in California, with the state and cities taking a smaller share.

Fiscal 1946 and 1947 show the state spending the larger share of taxpayers' dollar, at 32 per cent, the counties next with 25 per cent, the school districts, 24 per cent, the cities 17 per cent, and the special districts 2 per cent.

San Carlos Garden Club Hears Norvell Gillespie

"Unusual Color Combinations in Your Garden" was one of the topics discussed by Norvell Gillespie, noted gardening expert and San Francisco columnist, when he spoke before the San Carlos Civic Garden Club Friday.

Mr. Gillespie, who has written a book on gardening to be released in December, pointed out that it is often impressive to have a contrasting ground cover with such tall flowers as tulips and daffodils. He suggested blue pansies, violas or Virginian stock. After his talk he gave those present a schedule for bulb planting.

Highlight of the business meeting was the presentation of a gold trophy to the club by Mrs. James Hugh Martin. Mrs. Martin presented the trophy in behalf of the San Mateo County Fiesta Assn. The club won third prize for its float in the San Mateo Fiesta parade. Mrs. Martin was chairman of the float committee.

Mrs. Lester B. West gave a report of the progress for the annual Christmas party. The party will be held at the Pioneer Inn in Woodside on Dec. 16 at 1 p.m. Everyone is to bring a gift pertaining to gardening.

Mrs. Robert Klassen was in charge of the decorations. The tea table was centered with yellow chrysanthemums and green leaves and the speakers' table was decorated with roses. Fall flowers were arranged about the hall.

New members welcomed into the club were presented with corsages made by Mrs. Charles H. Frederic. The new members are Mmes. Curtis Rowbotham, B. W. Wood, Leona Langworthy, E. W. Von Ernster, D. R. Wildoerster, Charles H. Frederic, A. Emily Reid, L. F. Walters, L. E. Spence, K. F. McMillan, J. C. Bowles, Milton Lauterwasser and Miss Josephine Lobazin.

Hospitality chairman, Mrs. D. Greene, introduced the hospitality committee for the afternoon. They were Mmes. William Klose, W. S. Tucker, R. S. Mathewson, Orin P. Walker and Lester B. West.

Mrs. George Lagomarsino and Mrs. Roy D. Gover poured.

The Parents' Corner

BY DR. RICHMOND BARBOUR, DIRECTOR
Guidance Bureau, San Diego City Schools, and sponsored by California Congress of Parents and Teachers

"HOW WE DID IT" HINTS

Would you care to hear how others are solving headachey home problems? The Parents' Corner "How We Did It" contest has attracted many fine suggestions. Today we print a few of them.

Mrs. Nunn of Corning, Calif., mother of three, writes that one way of solving common problems in her home is to read the Parents' Corner regularly. That's flattering! She asks if the column could be printed daily.

Other readers have made the same suggestion. I have decided to try writing daily, starting in January. If you, like Mrs. Nunn, would like the column daily, please let your editor know that you would. There will be no increase in his charges, but his space is precious. Thank you.

Mrs. C. Heinbolt of Seattle, Wash., found a way to allay the fears that were giving night terrors to her 2-year-old daughter. She had tried the usual unsuccessful treatments of letting her cry it out, leaving a night light burning in her room, taking her to the toilet frequently, and even spanking her. Then she found that the reason for the nightmares was an exaggerated fear of some imaginary bears. The bears were supposed to live in her daughter's room, and come out at night. Many children have such fears.

But her little girl was sure that there would be no bears in Mommie's room. Wisely, Mrs. Reinbolt moved her daughter's bed into her own bedroom for enough nights to get her over the hump.

Where night terrors are involved you will find that understanding and sympathy always pay, while pressure always fails.

Mrs. Harold Rider, of Ojai, Calif., has a daughter who learned to express her aggressiveness by speaking in a strange low mumbling monotone. People who heard her could not understand what she was saying. The more puzzled they became the happier was the dauhgter.

Have your children ever tried that stunt? Ours have and I know how embarrassing it can be.

Mrs. Rider stopped the rebellion by adopting the same mannerism herself. When her daughter brought friends home, Mrs. Rider would do her best to speak in the same low mumbling voice and mask her face with the same scowl. Before a week was over, the daughter capitulated. She promised to act human again, if only Mamma would be human too!

How much better it is to meet that sort of rebellion indirectly than it is to try to squelch it with physical force. Force increases rebelliousness. Mrs. Rider's device let the child see how silly she was, and that is all that many rebellious children need.

AAUW to Sponsor Exhibit for County Artists in March

Peninsula artists will again have the opportunity to exhibit their work to the public—this is the word that comes from Mrs. A. Woods Giberson, chairman of the arts committee of the Burlingame-San Mateo Hillsborough branch of the American Assn. of University Women.

This is the second art show sponsored by the AAUW. The first show in February, 1947, met with such enthusiastic acclaim that the local organization has decided to sponsor another exhibit. One hundred and thirty artists exhibited in the 1947 show and nearly 400 pictures were on display in the auditorium of the Hoover School in Burlingame.

Artists residing in San Mateo County will be eligible to exhibit their work. Entries will again be limited to original works by living Peninsula artists and will include paintings, etchings and block prints.

All artists wishing to enter and who did not exhibit the previous show are requested to mail their names to the Art Show Committee, Burlingame-Hillsborough Branch, American Assn. of University Women, 1134 Douglas Ave., Burlingame.

The show will be held in March. Further information will be sent to the artists in February as to the time, place and conditions of entry.

Mothers' Auxiliary Holds Last Meeting of Term

The last meeting of the fall term was held by members of St. Joseph's Military Academy Mothers' Auxiliary Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. A. T. Carolla of Redwood City, president, presiding.

Friday, Dec. 10, will be Fathers' and Sons' Night at the academy and movies will be shown in St. John's Hall for the mothers wishing to attend that evening. The movies will include shots taken Mothers' Day when St. Joseph's was located in Rio Vista.

Plans for the cadets' Christmas party to be held Dec. 17 in the gym were discussed. Also on the agenda was the Mothers' Club fashion show to be held early in the spring.

Mrs. James Kidwell was appointed sunshine chairman and members were asked to notify her of any member being ill or bereaved.

Mrs. Carolla, on behalf of the club, presented Capt. and Mrs. Edward Dougherty, at whose home the group always meets, a box of candy honoring the Doughertys' 21st wedding anniversary.

Bernard Barrish to Talk To Jewish Youth Group

Bernard Barrish will speak on "Labor Relations of Our Day" at the regular meeting of the Peninsula Jewish Youth Group tomorrow night at 9 o'clock in the Temple Beth Jacob on Creek Dr. in Menlo Park. An open discussion will follow Mr. Barrish's talk.
